ABOUT POMPSTATION

OUR SERVICES

An innovative concept in a working water pumping station in an industrial one of a kind setting.

The robust, industrial building that is now home to Pompstation was built at the beginning of the last century (1912) in the characteristic sober style of the Amsterdamse School.

Since opening it has been used as a water pumping station for Waternet, the Dutch water management company. In earlier days giant water pumps stood in the area that is now the restaurant. Then in the eighties the pumps were moved to the basement directly under the floor. Especially on rainy days, the pumps will start to pump the water out of the city. This can sometimes be noticed by a gentle (or at times not so gentle) vibration that resonates throughout the building.

We offer different possibilities. Our location offers countless possibilities to host an event. We offer the possibility to rent our restaurant completely exclusively. Our furniture is largely movable, so we can create a completely different setting in a room.
